Summary

I'm a UX and product designer with eight years of experience in fintech and e-commerce. I've led end-to-end design for B2C mobile apps and websites, and built scalable design systems and multi-platform experiences for enterprise clients. I led efforts to standardise design workflows and UX practices across the team, creating more consistent and efficient processes. I've also created visually engaging, intuitive UI that aligns with brand guidelines while improving user engagement.
